Role Outcomes Review

Use the level that best matches the documented evidence.

Apply the same baseline definitions to outcomes and competencies so manager and employee feedback uses a shared scale.

EMERGING

Performance or competency use is developing. The person shows some relevant behaviors or progress, but consistency, independence, quality, or evidence is not yet reliable for the current role expectation.

MEETING

Performance or competency use is reliable. The person delivers the expected current-state outcome or behavior with appropriate quality, follow-through, communication, and judgment for the role.

STRONG

Performance or competency use is a clear strength. The person delivers with high independence, strong quality, useful judgment, and positive impact beyond basic completion of the expected work.

1

Workforce products move from concept to usable tools

Success looks like: Ideas become structured products, service models, pricing logic, implementation roadmaps, and client-facing materials.

Evidence: Product roadmap milestones, product briefs, and implementation plans are created.

☐ EMERGING

☐ MEETING
